THE CHARTER AMENDMENT

NOV. 6

"I like my job because what I do helps keep the residents and their property safe. I've heard I have a reputation for being knowledgeable and fair to all the plumbers who come in for permits. Some say, 'You're like a mom. We can't get anything by you,' which is a good thing. I enjoy my interactions with the taxpayers, helping them understand their water and wastewater billing. And that's a good thing, too. What is not good is when I have to worry about the security of my job. I worry about the younger workers — they keep losing benefits. We need a union to protect us from the whims of political change."

"When I run the broom on the boardwalk, I hear nothing but good comments. People say how they like to come here because the boardwalk is clean and the streets are clean. 'Look how clean the beaches are!', they say. Now the general employees want equality and fairness, and the ability to speak our minds without repercussions. The police and firefighters have the security of collective bargaining. Why not us?"
